

Leon Beyer

Comtes Eguisheim Riesling 2008

Region	Alsace, France
Winemaker	Marc Beyer, Yann Beyer and Eric Schueller
Grape Type	100% Riesling
Production	< 1,000 cases
Alcohol	13%
Vinification	This wine is traditionally vinified and completely fermented dry wine.
Vineyards	Produced from grapes from the best slopes, primarily family estates, for the most part “grand crus”, only produced from great vintages. The soils are limestone and clay.
Tasting Notes	Incredibly mature, remarkable fruit, stunning quality, these wines, vinified according to both time-honored traditions and the most up-to-date methods, are what have forged the truly prestigious reputation of Leon Beyer wines. Recommended with shellfish and other seafood. “Pale yellow. Cool aromas of powdered stone and ginger lifted by a whiff of orange peel. Dense and quite dry, with superb precision to its stone and spice flavors, as well as an intriguing suggestion of tropical fruits that no doubt reflects the late harvest. This classic Riesling finishes with explosive length and terrific cut. This is a full 13% alcohol, with less than three grams of residual sugar.” – International Wine Cellar
